An alternative opportunity to spot Southern Right Whales in season exists from Strandfontein to Cape Point via Boulders Beach with Fish Hoek Bay as the apparent focal point. Close-up and in some cases unparalleled views of these majestic creatures are offered by the elevated road that hugs the coastline in places, some restaurants and, the licensed boat operator. Look out for the interpretative signage at various spots which explain the life history of the Southern Right Whales that come to calve from May to November. To convince you to visit this whale route, which is but one feature of the Cape Point Route, the whale sightings picture for the 2004 season is shown below (we didn't run the spotting programme in 2005). Importantly, ask for the booklet (shown left) to help you plan and thus maximise your experience.
